Gorebridge is a small town with an active and thriving community, situated in the county of Midlothian some ten miles from Edinburgh, off the A7 (Galashiels Road). It is surrounded by open countryside and forms part of a crescent of similar small towns stretching from Musselburgh in the east through Dalkeith, Eskbank, Bonnyrigg, Loanhead, Roslin to Penicuik in the west.

The town itself has a good selection of shops and services including banking and Post Office facilities and there are also excellent amenities in the market town of Bonnyrigg and also Dalkeith. There is a Tesco Superstore nearby and a retail park at Straiton which has a variety of superstores including Ikea, Costco and Sainsburys. Gorebridge has a leisure centre with a variety of clubs and societies, a library, a bowling club and a park. There is also a swimming pool at nearby Newbattle.

In recent years, the road network has improved majorly and as a consequence, the City Bypass is within easy reach and there is convenient access to the Scottish motorway network and Edinburgh International Airport. The location now also benefits from being along the route of the Borders Railway with regular train services into Edinburgh.
