This fantastic development is positioned in a sought after area in West Kilbride. West Kilbride and neighbouring Seamill are pretty villages, located between Ardrossan and Largs on the Clyde coast. The views from both villages encompass the entire Clyde Estuary including the Sound of Bute, the Isle of Arran with Goat Fell and Holy Island. In a recent, community inspired development, West Kilbride has been designated Scotland's first craft town. In late Victorian times, Seamill became popular as a summer resort with The Hydropathic (now renowned as the Seamill Hydro Hotel) enabling visitors to enjoy restorative water cures. The Seamill Hydro Hotel is a recognised conference centre and North Ayrshire's leading venue for wedding receptions.

Long popular with the affluent retired, the area has recently seen some high quality new residential development and is attracting an increasing number of younger families and commuters. West Kilbride has a railway station with direct, commuter services to Largs, Greenock and Glasgow Central Station, with a journey time of under an hour to the city. Local schooling is available in West Kilbride with additional secondary schooling in Largs and Ardrossan. Private schooling is available at Wellington School in Ayr which offers co-education from the ages of three to eighteen, or in Glasgow.

Ayrshire is famous worldwide for golf with world-class championship courses at Turnberry, Royal Troon and Prestwick, all of which have hosted the British Open. The West Kilbride Golf Club is a championship links course which was founded in 1893. The course is 6452 yards long and was designed by "Old" Tom Morris. Despite its name, it is located in Seamill. There is excellent sailing in the Firth of Clyde with yachting marinas at Troon, Largs and Inverkip. There are also good opportunities for field sports including horse riding, shooting and fishing.
